We had a wonderful Christmas season, celebrating our Lord's birth. I think this was our best Christmas yet. Thank you for your part in it—your prayers for us and your financial support.

On December 4th, we were very disappointed to find out that Jeremy had violated parole and was sent back to prison. But on Christmas Eve as we were celebrating with Jason, Anna, and the boys, Jeremy called to say that the judge had been lenient to him. He was given a second chance. Once again, he is trying to put together the pieces of his life. Please keep him in your prayers.

We continue to pray for you that our Heavenly Father will prosper you and keep you in divine health, even as your soul prospers.

Please continue to pray for us as well. Thank you!

We love and appreciate you!
