Our Family

The Stutzman house

Ya'll come and see us and spend the night with us at 419 McKinley in Cedar Hill, Texas. We've had quite a few overnight visitors already and it sure has been fun.

Christmas 1995

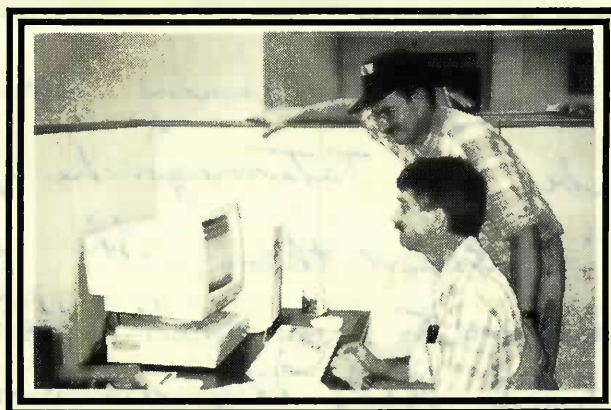

Verna's mother spent Christmas with us, flying down from Nova Scotia, Canada where she lives now. The weather was stormy and affected her flights both coming and going. It was lovely to have her here and both our boys as well. Our boys keep busy with school and work and adjusting to the American lifestyle. Jeremy is having a ball and Jason is putting up with it.

Our Work

Before we left PNG in June, our friends and colleagues there put on a farewell party for us. It was very meaningful and we appreciated the effort very much.

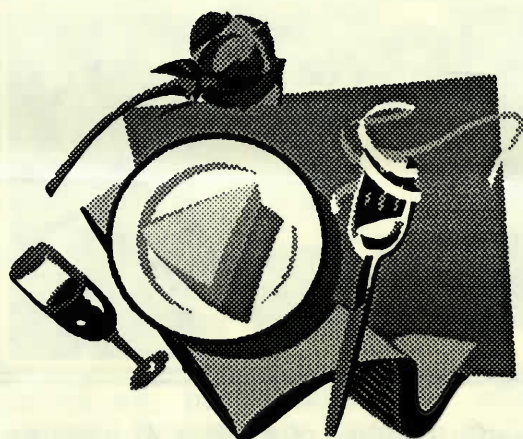

Verna is a member of a team of linguists and computers programmers who have been working on a comprehensive linguistics application (CELLAR). This project (known as Project '95) has been going on for around seven years and has involved many people. The particular aspect of the project Verna is working on is programming the interface between CELLAR and programs like CARLA and other DOS based programs that manipulate linguistic data. She absolutely loves her work, in spite of the fact that it is tremendously challenging.

Robert is working on Biblical section headings for computerized translation helps.

We consider it a real privilege to serve the Lord in the place where he has planted us. Please continue to pray that we will be able to trust Our Lord with our future. Thank you for faithfully supporting us in prayer and with your financial contributions. Have a Happy Day!
